

Tenure-Track or Visiting, Assistant/Associate/Full Finance Department
The University Of Iowa
Iowa City, Iowa

Tenure-track or Visiting, Assistant/Associate/Full Professor of Finance, or non-tenure track Lecturer/Visiting Lecturer. All specialty areas in finance, real estate, and insurance will be considered. Individuals with expertise in corporate finance and/or investments are especially encouraged to apply. Tenure-track positions require research and teaching, and non-tenure-track positions require teaching. Some positions may additionally require administrative responsibilities. Teaching load may include undergraduate, MBA, or Ph.D. courses. The precise teaching assignments will depend on the requirements of the department and the interests of the individual. The tenure-track positions require a completed Ph.D. degree (or nearly completed Ph.D. degree in the case of Assistant Professor), and non-tenure-track positions require at least a Master's Degree. Please specify which position you are applying for, by selecting the appropriate drop down(s) at the application website. The application website is located at <http://www.biz.uiowa.edu/recruiting/finance> Applicants should submit a cover letter, vita and no more than two publications or working papers, preferably as pdf files. Letters of reference (3) should be arranged; the applicant will provide the e-mail address of external reference writers at the applicant website. Salary and rank will be commensurate with qualifications. Contingent upon available funding, employment is scheduled to begin August 2009.

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA IS AN AFFIRMATIVE ACTION/EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER.

Women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are enthusiastically encouraged to apply.
